

SEAN LYONS FOR PRESIDENT

For Immediate Release

Sean Lyons For President Questionnaire:

1. What is your favorite band?

I'm not sure I have a favorite band, but I've been listening to Hollywood Undead for a long time. Not the most popular of bands, especially to play on a Juke Box, but they alright.

2. What was the last song you listened to?

The [Clean] version of Tesla by Lil' Pump. Just listening to music though, can't say on the quality or the extreme use of bad words, but it was alright.

3. What is a good country song?

I'm not big on country, or wasn't, until lately, I found, maybe not as good as Alex Sucks, who probably still needs A 6 Pack and Some Cigarettes, but it's called Southern by Katie Noel.

4. You ever been to Cook Out?

That's the place Biden was at recently, getting a cold milk shake on a cold day. Though I have been there, the lines are always ridiculous. I like it though, always good late at night as they are open late.

5. What is M.A.G.A.A.W.S?

Why make America great again, when it is already great, and we should just compound the greatness again and again. So, it is Make America Great Again and Again With Sean.

6. Why are you entering the election cycle now?

Why not? I know it may not be 100% possibility to win the nomination in a traditional sense, but the path is there. Think of the excitement and how everyone was saying Trump is going to be the nominee after one state's, Iowa's, caucuses. Sentiment can change quite quickly, especially with what's going on these days, and if I'm not putting myself out there, especially when already making some waves in the process, I'm not even going to have a chance. There is a chance, and I'm seeing some pretty interesting effects.

7. Do you have any picks for VP?

Yes.

8. Are you available for further interviews?

Yes.

9. What is your favorite flavor of ice cream?

Vanilla, but normally with magic chocolate shell, or rum raisins.

10. Are you really qualified to be President?

That shouldn't even be a question. I absolutely am as I have basically been advising presidents since I was a kid. If I counted, that's like the last five presidents. I have a wide broad knowledge of a lot of things, including law, technology, foreign policy, and I am not a softy. I just feel like I would fall into the job as the most qualified. I feel like Trump was the one who pushed me to realize, why advise when I can actually be President. I'm just really easy going and pickup on things very quickly. I've read a lot and read so much that books started circling around to my research and expertise on subjects, that it became weird. I'm well written as well.

11. Anything else you would like to add?

Do you have any further questions?
